

AHVMA Members
(Academy of Holistic Veterinary Medicine)
National Database

Listed in order of “Telephone Area Code”

As of - 12/01/2008

For more information visit...

<http://www.holisticvetlist.com>

The vets on this list are trained to practice a variety of natural “holistic” veterinary medicine as part of their practice - and are members of the Academy of Holistic Veterinary Medicine.

Holistic veterinary medicine includes many different “types” of practices – to determine the type of practice that each listed vet uses, please consult the “Modalities Abbreviation List” at the start of the database.

Homeopathy was a critical part of my dog Marty’s cancer care, and, in my mind, one of the most important things we did to help save his life...

For more information about the Academy of Veterinary Homeopathy please visit their website at <http://www.theavh.org>.

This list is for informational purposes only. It is not intended to recommend any of the vets included on this list. Please conduct your own research and be selective when choosing which vet to use for your pet.

Last update > 11/10/2008

Current Selection Criteria:

State or Country > ALL

Certification Criteria > Certified and Non-Certified

Type of Practice > No species practice preference

Phone Consultation Criteria > No Phone Consult Criteria

Percent Homeopathic Cases > None Specified

Sort Order > Sorted by Phone

This AHVMA member list is sorted into 3 categories...

- AHVMA Holistic Vets practicing in the United States (see page 4)
- AHVMA Holistic Vets practicing in Canada (page 104), and
- Other AHVMA Holistic Vets practicing around the world (page 109)

All vets are listed according to their telephone “Area Code” – To find a vet who practices in your area, just scroll down to your home area code (and remember to search other area codes in your general area to increase your chance of finding a vet near you...)

Unfortunately, as you will see, while there are more vets listed on this AHVMA member list than there were on the AVH referral database of homeopathic vets..., there still are not a large number of vets on this list - so you may have to travel some distance (or consider telephone consultations) if you want your dog to be treated by one of the vets on these lists...

And finally, if you can't find an AHVMA member vet near you, please check out the alternate list of “homeopathic” vets who belong to the “Academy of Veterinary Homeopathy” (AVH) – those vets are generally well practiced using the supplements and natural care I recommend in my book and practice a natural “homeopathic” care, which worked wonders for my dog Marty.

I have attached a list of AVH vets in a separate file, or you can search their online database at <http://www.theavh.org/referral/index.php>

Now, on to the AHVMA list of holistic veterinarians...

AHVMA List Modalities QUICK REFERENCE:

(This list can also be found at http://holisticvetlist.com/ahvma\_chart\_of\_modalities.html)

As you will see, there are many different “modalities” (types of practices) that constitute holistic veterinary care... Use this key to determine the “types” of treatments that each veterinarian on this list uses in his or her practice. I have not used many (most) of these in my experience caring for Marty so, while I assume that each modality will have some benefit for your dog’s care – the effects and effectiveness of each modality will vary, and I cannot speak to their effectiveness. Please consult with the vet and do additional research to learn about the benefits of each type of holistic practice.
